Important note for all products

We endeavour to make every product image, description, availability, delivery timeframe and freight cost as accurate as possible.

Unfortunately, we don't control manufacturer's different packaged options and various configurations are always 100% accurate and current.

Stock availability can vary daily and some items need to be imported which can mean delivery times can be 2 weeks or even longer.

Freight pricing can vary depending on the required delivery service time and other factors such as quantity, weight, size and packaging.

If there are any questions, please use the "Contact Us" form and we will get back to you ASAP. Thank you.
